Trend Diamond pen file

As portable as a pen, this neat little diamond hone stores inside the pen barrel and has a pocket clip. It's great for sharpening knives, touching up curved profiles, and the like. It has continuous fine diamonds and is of equal quality to my well-used, and favourite Trend bench stone.

Trend diamond needle files

A decent set of needle files aren't cheap — these certainly aren't. But then they are British made, they fly the flag, and come with a five-year warranty.

They are very useful for fine tuning and fettling any metal or plastic, and there are four different profiles in the set to cope with most shapes, each with fine continuous diamonds bonded into a nickel plate for a fast cut and long life.

The triangular one could be especially handy for anyone looking to touch up the teeth on Gents and fine dovetail saws.
