This is a handy solution to the problem of accurately dividing up boards. The Point 2 Point is intended for setting out dowels, biscuit joints and other functions where critical precision isn't essential. It expands trellis-like up to 600mm and can then be locked in position. Points on the top and bottom provide marking positions and will suit both left- and right-handers. It's very straightforward and fast to use – an inventive and useful gadget.
